WHO WE ARE

Who we are

Valmore Management & Staffing is a governance firm for private households and family offices. We do not simply place staff or visit properties — we build the operating system that keeps a residence, a collection and a team running to a single, documented standard.

Our principals have led complex private operations across the Americas and Europe. Every engagement is directed by a senior partner, executed by vetted operators and reported to the principal in writing.

We work across nine countries with a single method: audit, design, deploy and direct. The result is a household that runs the same way whether the principal is in residence or a continent away — with costs, risks and people visible at all times.
